

Manufacturing

Faced with a myriad of regulatory and operating challenges, manufacturers can no longer just focus on producing goods. Today's manufacturers must understand legal issues impacting the way they do business. Clients in the manufacturing industry trust Chambliss for its multidisciplinary and pragmatic counsel.

Chambliss represents domestic and international manufacturing companies across a wide range of industry sectors, including:

- Automotive
- Chemical
- Food
- Roadbuilding and mining equipment

Experience

Successfully represented a manufacturer sued by an independent dealer for more than $1.5 million for alleged breach of the dealer agreement

Obtained a defense verdict in favor of our client, a manufacturer accused of trade secret misappropriation by a competitor (Jury-Federal Court)

Obtained a defense verdict in favor of our client, a manufacturer accused of patent infringement by a competitor (Jury-Federal Court)

Represented manufacturer in California class action involving alleged violations of wage and hour laws

Successfully defended Tennessee manufacturer in federal court suit alleging violations of ERISA and the Family and Medical Leave Act

Successfully defended Tennessee manufacturer in federal court suit alleging violations of the Americans with Disabilities Act; decision in client's favor affirmed by Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals
