

Jim Catanzaro Contributes to “Pandemic Practice: From Labor Law to Estate Planning, COVID-19 Has Reset the Bar for Many Attorneys”

EDGE Magazine published “Pandemic Practice: From Labor Law to Estate Planning, COVID-19 Has Reset the Bar for Many Attorneys,” highlighting insight from Jim Catanzaro, in their July 2020 issue. This article discusses how many attorneys, both locally and nationally, have had to shift the ways they are used to practicing. Jim Catanzaro shared in his interview how many attorneys are addressing new business issues and are creatively adapting to client needs. He also touches on topics related to contracts, force majeure, and several COVID-related business concerns.

Jim is a shareholder and chairs our Business group. He also is a co-chair of the Chambliss COVID-19 Task Force, which continues to monitor and provide updates on legislation and other legal implications related to the pandemic. For more details on Jim’s experience and practice, please visit his bio.

---

The material in this publication was created as of the date set forth above and is based on laws, court decisions, administrative rulings, and congressional materials that existed at that time, and should not be construed as legal advice or legal opinions on specific facts. In some cases, the underlying legal information is changing quickly in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. The information in this publication is not intended to create, and the transmission and receipt of it does not constitute, a lawyer-client relationship. Please contact your legal counsel for advice regarding specific situations.