

Jim Catanzaro Discusses Nonprofits and Board Service on Let's Talk Money Radio Show

Jim Catanzaro joined Jim Place and Jayme O'Donnell of Evergreen Advisors on the August 23, 2022, Let's Talk Money radio show. In the podcast, Jim shared insight on nonprofits, including the different types of organizations, common misunderstandings surrounding the term, and how they are evaluated. He also discussed the importance and responsibilities of board service as it relates to nonprofit and charitable organizations.

For the full episode, listen to the on-demand Let's Talk Money podcast with Jim.

Let's Talk Money is hosted daily by Evergreen Advisors from noon to 1 p.m. on WGOW 102.3FM.

Jim is a shareholder in the health care and charitable and public purpose organization sections at Chambliss. Nonprofits, private foundations, public charities, health care providers, and commercial entities rely on Jim's technical experience and practical approach to advise them on issues including drafting and reviewing contracts, managing applicable risk, leveraging the efficiencies of their teams, and compliance issues. His extensive experience in the nonprofit, health care, and commercial business industries allows him to reduce risk and balance administrative burdens for his clients. Jim also serves as general counsel for organizations that provide grants or public benefit services. For more information on his experience, please visit Jim's bio.