Kathleen Siciliano will present at the Tennessee Association of Independent Schools \(TAIS\) 2024 Annual Conference, Empowering Our Future: Pushing Purpose to Action on Monday, November 4, 2024. Her presentation, "Enhancing School Handbooks: Policies and Provisions in an Evolving Educational Landscape," will offer insights on establishing clear boundaries, suggesting new policies, and emphasizing essential provisions that schools should take into account in today's environment. She will also outline best practices for adapting to the swift advancements in AI technology and offer practical strategies for updating school handbooks to prioritize academic integrity in the evolving educational landscape.

The conference will be held November 3-4, 2024, in Franklin, Tennessee, and is open to TAIS members and non-members. For more information, please visit the TAIS event page.

Kathleen is an associate in Chambliss' labor and employment section. She counsels employers of all sizes on discrimination and retaliation claims, employment agreements, medical leave and disability concerns, LGBTQ matters, workplace investigations, and restrictive covenants and trade secret enforcement, all while ensuring state and federal employment law compliance. Kathleen's work also includes advising independent schools on a wide range of issues such as wage and hour compliance, student safety and disciplinary issues, and contract disputes. Known for her thoughtful approach and dedication to her clients' best interests, Kathleen is always listening first and providing advice second.
