

Logan Threadgill Elected Chattanooga Bar Association's Young Lawyers Division President

Logan Threadgill was recently elected president of the Chattanooga Bar Association's (CBA) Young Lawyers Division (YLD). The YLD's goal is to promote a better understanding of the legal profession and encourage the connection of young lawyers in Hamilton County through community, educational, and professional programs.

Logan has served on the Chattanooga Bar Association Board of Directors since 2018. As president, he will oversee and conduct board meetings, representing the YLD during CBA board meetings, and assist with local High School Mock Trial Competitions and various other legal clinics and community outreach programs throughout the year. There are currently several legal clinics slated for 2023, including a debt relief clinic, multiple expungement clinics, and an Essential Documents for Essential Workers clinic.

Logan represents clients in a broad spectrum of commercial litigation matters. He has extensive experience working on construction cases, contract and payment disputes, product liability cases, and Chapter 7, Chapter 11, and Chapter 13 bankruptcy proceedings. In addition to serving on the board of the Young Lawyers Divisions for the Chattanooga and Tennessee Bar Associations, he is also a member of the American Bar Association, an alumnus of Leadership Chattanooga, and was featured as a Rising Star by the Chattanooga Times Free Press. He is a graduate of Protégé Chattanooga, led by the Young Professionals of Chattanooga (YPC) and the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce. He was also recognized in Best Lawyers in America: Ones to Watch in 2023 for commercial litigation, construction law, litigation – bankruptcy, and litigation – construction. For more details on his practice and experience, please visit Logan's bio.

Read the Hamilton County Herald article, "Bar Association Welcomes New Board Members".