When clients give me a destination, my goal is to map the route best suited to get there. Whether that means taking a well-worn path or cutting a new trail, I enjoy crafting innovative, cost-effective ways to get my clients where they ultimately want to be.

Grayson Chambers works on a variety of litigation matters for individuals and businesses seeking representation and defense in contract disputes, bankruptcy, and other commercial litigation matters. He serves a variety of clients, many of which operate in the manufacturing, health care, financial services, and telecommunications industries. He works with manufacturers of complex machinery, represents behavioral and psychiatric health care providers, counsels financial institutions in Chapters 7, 11, and 13 bankruptcies, and helps public and private entities navigate the telecommunications industry. He has defended clients at the local, state, and federal levels.

Before joining Chambliss, Grayson served as a law clerk for the Honorable Curtis L. Collier in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Tennessee. A graduate of the University of Georgia School of Law who finished in the top 10 percent of his class, Grayson was inducted into the Order of the Coif honor society.

Grayson was born and raised in Chickamauga, Georgia. Outside of the office, he enjoys spending time with friends and family, taking advantage of everything Chattanooga has to offer. An avid sports fan, he cheers on the Georgia Bulldogs on fall Saturdays and plays in local basketball leagues year-round. He also enjoys immersing himself in a good book and dusting off the guitar from time to time.
