Chambliss.

Justin K. Powers
Associate

D. 423.757.0281
F. 423.508.1281
E. jpowers@chamblisslaw.com

Having a strong understanding of the client's business and industry is key, and I enjoy working closely with each client to become a reliable resource for their business.

Justin Powers is a corporate attorney with experience advising startups to national organizations. He works on general business matters, including reviewing and drafting contracts and advising on commercial business issues, such as supplier agreement disputes and negotiations. He also drafts asset purchase agreements and other transaction documents for the firm's mergers and acquisitions clients. In addition, with increasing technological advancements in business, he provides legal advice on emerging issues related to digital assets like cryptocurrencies and non-fungible tokens (NFTs).

Associations

Noteworthy

- Belmont Law Review, Articles and Notes Editor
- L. Edward Bryant, Jr. National Health Law Transactional Moot Court Team, Captain, Belmont University College of Law
- Belmont University College of Law, Dean's List
- Rhodes College Varsity Men's Lacrosse Team, Captain
- Southern Athletic Association Honor Roll
- Kappa Sigma Fraternity, President
- Law Clerk to the Honorable Jerri S. Bryant, Chancery Court, Tenth Judicial District of Tennessee

Sidebar

Justin is a native of Cleveland, Tennessee. He grew up going to school in Chattanooga and is a graduate of McCallie. In college, he was a four-year starter and captain of the men's lacrosse team at Rhodes College. In his free time, he likes to work on his golf game. He also enjoys cheering on New York sports teams (he's a huge Yankees, Rangers, and Jets fan), watching live music, and spending time with family and friends.

Services
- Business
- Chambliss Startup Group
- Mergers and Acquisitions

Industries
- Real Estate
- Startups and Emerging Companies
- Transportation and Logistics

Admissions
- Tennessee

Education
- B.A., Rhodes College, 2018
- J.D., Belmont University College of Law, 2021