I take a direct, practical, and resourceful approach to providing innovative solutions for my clients that advance their businesses and organizations.

With an extensive legal background, Lisa Kiner draws on her litigation experience and her team of trusted colleagues to help provide a 360-degree approach to assisting clients with managing their nonprofits and companies. Nonprofits have unique needs and are often tasked with an ever-growing list of demands and providing community resources on limited budgets, and Lisa has the knowledge and experience to help meet those needs. In addition to bringing long-term plans to completion, she assists with various daily matters, such as drafting and negotiating contracts, creating opportunities for nonprofits, counseling on governance issues, drafting bylaws, and advising on the legal aspects of capital campaigns, tax and regulatory issues, and dissolutions. Lisa's clients rely on her for her resourcefulness and creative solutions when it comes to achieving their goals.
