

Naudia Gray

Associate

D. 423.757.0247

F. 423.508.1247

E. ngray@chamblisslaw.com

As a first-generation college and law school graduate, I am adept at navigating and adapting to new situations, leveraging my problem-solving skills to deliver effective solutions for the unique challenges my clients face.

Naudia Gray counsels businesses of all sizes, guiding them through every phase of a sale or acquisition. She regularly drafts asset purchase agreements and other transaction documents, ensuring smooth transitions for her clients. Whether working with a thriving business seeking to grow through asset acquisition, or a successful family-run enterprise being passed to the next generation, Naudia meticulously crafts the agreements and contracts to guide the organization through the changes. She enjoys collaborating with a variety of businesses during the due diligence phase to ensure her clients feel confident and secure during the process. She is dedicated to delivering proactive and responsive counsel that upholds the high standards of excellence at Chambliss.

With a practical, solutions-oriented mindset, Naudia places her clients' needs at the forefront of her practice. She values clear, effective communication and is dedicated to building strong relationships with all parties in a transaction. Naudia's competitive drive and collaborative spirit allow her to effectively handle corporate governance and minimize risk for a wide variety of business models.

Experience

Assisted with the acquisition of Fisher and Associates, Inc., an industrial equipment and engineering services company, by Weems Mechanical, a nationally recognized industrial and mechanical engineering firm, which expanded the scope of Weems' offerings in the industrial pump, heat exchanger, and filtration system space, and solidifies its position as a full-service engineering firm

Assisted with the merger of two friendly pediatric dental practices in a noncash realignment, which achieved more favorable tax treatment for the surviving entity and consolidated unnecessary duplication of internal processes

Services

- Business
- Business Organizations and Planning
- Capital Equipment and Materials
- Chambliss Startup Group
- Corporate Governance and Risk Management
- Mergers and Acquisitions

Industries

- Food and Beverage
- Health Care
- Manufacturing
- Startups and Emerging Companies

Admissions

- Tennessee

Education

- J.D., The University of Tennessee, with honors, 2024
- B.S., Lee University, magna cum laude, 2018

Represented a privately-held facilities and fleet services provider in the sale of its business to a strategic buyer

Represented the members of a global freight auditing business in a carve-out sale to a public acquirer in a $3 million asset transaction with significant earnout consideration

Reviewed non-disclosure agreements and confidentiality agreements for large manufacturers

Associations

Bar Associations

- Tennessee Bar Association

Noteworthy

- Tennessee Law Review, Managing Editor, 2023-2024
- Transactions: The Tennessee Journal of Business Law, Executive Editor, 2023-2024
- CALI Award for Civil Procedure II and Family Law
- The University of Tennessee College of Law, Distilled Spirits Law Certificate
- Lee University Centennial Gold Scholar

Sidebar

As a firm believer in recharging herself to best serve her clients, Naudia revitalizes herself by being outdoors and staying active. She is a pilates lover and thinks that a long walk can solve just about any problem. She and her husband, Austin, enjoy trying new restaurants and cuisines and are in the process of becoming certified wine sommeliers.