

Nicholas “Nick” T. Kujawa

Financial Analyst

D. 423.321.0477

F. 423.508.1477

E. nkujawa@chamblisslaw.com

I work hard to deliver accurate, relevant, and timely information to our team, providing detailed business insight to support informed decision-making.

Nicholas “Nick” Kujawa supports the firm by providing management with accurate and reliable financial information for decision-making and planning purposes. As a financial analyst, he provides various financial reports, key performance indicators, and reporting packages to firm leadership. Nick enjoys exploring areas for improvement and determining solutions to help improve overall efficiency and productivity to better serve our clients.

Spending close to a decade in the mortgage and insurance industries, Nick brings a unique perspective to the firm. In his previous roles, he was responsible for eliminating redundancy, innovating company reporting, and fostering stronger working relationships. His role is critical to our company’s daily operations. No matter if Nick is reviewing historical financial reports and accounting data or macroeconomic information and industry research, he works to find opportunities for the firm to function more efficiently to improve our clients’ overall user experience with Chambliss.

Associations

- Association of Legal Administrators, Member

Community

- Delta Sigma Pi, Business Fraternity 2012-2015

Sidebar

Nick has lived in Chattanooga since 2019, spending most of the prior decade in Knoxville, TN. He attended the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, where he earned his degree in economics. Outside of work, he enjoys watching hockey (Go Preds!), running, or spending time with his wife, Hannah, and his son, Ryker.

Education

- B.S., The University of Tennessee, 2015

