It can still be challenging at times to find materials that answer a particular request, but very rewarding to uncover what's needed.

Valerie is the go-to resource for all members of the firm seeking answers to research questions. Client requests, case law, CLE and professional development training, competitive intelligence, firm history – it all falls in Valerie's day-to-day wheelhouse. Valerie has more than 20 years of experience working in law libraries. While a lot has changed in that time, the goal of supporting the firm's information and research needs in a timely and cost-effective manner has remained the same. Now more than ever, Valerie serves as a strategic resource for the legal team, firm management, and the marketing and business development department. As software and research technology evolves, she evaluates new opportunities and helps implement services that lead to better results for Chambliss clients.

Sidebar

Librarian by day, artist by night – well outside the office. Valerie is known in the Chattanooga arts community for her photography, collage, and fabric works. She also has a green thumb and enjoys taking care of her plants both inside and outside of the office. Valerie likes to stay active and will regularly walk around the Scenic City with coworkers and friends.
