

Sally Brewer and Leah Mitchell Talk Conservatorships and Estate Planning Tips on Let's Talk Money Radio Show

Sally Brewer and Leah Mitchell joined Jayme O'Donnell and Jim Place of Evergreen Advisors on the August 24, 2021, Let's Talk Money radio show. In the podcast, they discussed important topics related to conservatorships, powers of attorney, and the difference between Medicare and Medicaid.

For their interview on estate planning and elder care planning topics, listen to the on-demand Let's Talk Money podcast.

Let's Talk Money is hosted daily by Evergreen Advisors from 12 to 1 p.m. on WGOW 102.3FM.

Sally is an elder care paralegal who has advocated for and served seniors for over 30 years. She often assists with matters related to elder law — like wills, powers of attorney, and conservatorships — as well as care coordination, placement assistance, dementia consultation, and Medicaid/Veterans benefits attainment. Leah is an estate planning attorney who is licensed in Tennessee and Alabama. She goes above and beyond common legal solutions like wills, powers of attorney, and advance health care directives, and she provides specialized planning for business owners, high net worth individuals with complex tax issues, families who have children with special needs, and/or elderly family members needing long-term care. For more information on their experience, visit Sally's or Leah's bio.