

Corporate Governance and Risk Management

Chambliss business attorneys have a specific focus on corporate controls, compliance assessment, transparency, planning, and risk management. We understand the rules and enforcement policies of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and the Securities and Exchange Commission, and how these laws impact running a family-owned, small, or global business. Chambliss helps ensure its clients maintain a high level of corporate governance because it has a direct impact on a business' financial health.

We counsel our clients on the specific laws, regulations, and business rules that apply to their unique operations and business goals. Chambliss attorneys pay particular attention to the economic, legal, and social factors affecting each of their clients' businesses. We take into account our clients' risk tolerance and apply it to a proactive approach to managing contractual, litigation, regulatory, and structural risk.

Related Services

- Business
- Business Organizations and Planning
- Charitable and Public Purpose Organizations
- Tax
- Trade Regulation and Product Distribution

Related People

- Brenda Hodges Binder
- J. Nelson Irvine
- Cathy S. Dorvil
- Jay A. Young
- Kirby Waddell Yost
- Michael N. St. Charles
- Jed Roebuck
- Jason R. Mirmelstein
- William P. Aiken
- Richard "Rick" T. Hudson
- Frederick "Rick" L. Hitchcock
- Douglas "Doug" S. Griswold
- Kurt J. Faies
- Mark A. Cunningham
- James "Jim" L. Catanzaro, Jr.
- Laura McKinney
- Louis W. Metcalfe
- Hannah-Claire Boggess

- Brian L. Eftink
- J. Mitchell “Mitch” Barton